I. PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

The purpose of S. 3896, the Periodically Listing Updates to Management Act of 2020, or PLUM Act of 2020, is to modernize the practice of publishing the United States Government Policy and Supporting Positions or “Plum book” that is published every four years following presidential elections. The bill is also intended to improve transparency by requiring more frequent updates on the information regarding individuals who hold high-level policy and supporting positions in the Federal Government. The bill will also reduce unnecessary printing costs by eliminating the printing of the current list of those positions.

II. BACKGROUND AND THE NEED FOR LEGISLATION

The United States Government Policy and Supporting Positions book, commonly referred to as the Plum book, lists over nine thousand Federal civil service leadership and support positions in the Federal Government.¹ The Plum book was first published in 1952, when the Eisenhower Administration came into office after twenty years of Democratic administrations.² The Plum book's purpose at that time was to identify positions in the Federal Government for the new administration so that they had an understanding of the positions that they may consider filling via appointment.³ Since 1952, the Plum Book has been printed every four years, and available online since 1996.⁴ In 2012, the Government Printing Office introduced the Plum Book app, allowing users to view the Plum Book in a mobile and searchable format.⁵

Although the Plum book serves as a helpful tool for an incoming administration, the information is often dated when it is published and can contain errors. For example, the 2012 and 2016 Plum books listed appointees to the Federal Housing Finance Board, even though the agency has not existed since 2008.⁶ Further, some have argued that it should take on an additional role to inform the public with more up-to-date information about the individuals who are serving in specific positions in the Federal Government.⁷ In a May 2019 report, the Government Accountability Office found that information on political appointees was not comprehensive, timely, or complete, and recommended that Congress "consider legislation requiring comprehensive and timely information on political appointees serving in the executive branch to be collected and made publicly accessible."⁸

S. 3896 as introduced would have required agencies, through the Office of Personnel Management (OPM), to update the information previously provided in the Plum Book monthly (as opposed to the current four-year requirement). An amendment offered and accepted at markup changed the reporting requirement from monthly to twice every four years to reduce the burden on agencies and OPM. S. 3896 also eliminates the costly printing of the Plum book and requires the reporting to move to an Internet platform hosted by the Director of OPM by 2024. The Committee intends the web site authorized by the legislation will cover the types of positions that have been covered in the traditional Plum Book in recent years.

III. LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

S. 3896 was introduced on June 4, 2020, by Senator Thomas Carper (D-DE). The bill was referred to the Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs. The Committee considered S. 3896 at a business meeting on July 22, 2020.

During the business meeting, Senator James Lankford and Chairman Ron Johnson offered an amendment clarifying that the policy and supporting positions included in the published list required by S. 3896 are the same as currently included in the Plum book. The amendment also changed the update frequency required from monthly to biennially to reduce the burden on OPM and Federal agencies, and to keep the Plum book more focused on its original purpose to provide information to the president's administration.

Senator Johnson also offered an amendment striking the bill's $10 million authorization of appropriations and replaced it with an authorization for only such sums as may be necessary to build the website. The amendment also added a sunset provision eliminating the printing of hard copies of the Plum book beginning in 2024 to save money on the cost of unnecessary printing.

Both amendments and the legislation as modified by the amendments were passed by voice vote en bloc with Senators Johnson, Portman, Paul, Lankford, Romney, Scott, Enzi, Hawley, Peters, Carper, Hassan, Harris, and Rosen present.

IV. SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS OF THE BILL, AS REPORTED

Section 1. Short title; Purposes

This section establishes the short title of the bill as the Periodically Listing Updates to Management Act of 2020 or the PLUM Act of 2020.

It also provides that the purpose of the PLUM Act of 2020 is to modernize the publishing of the Plum book and enhance government transparency and accessibility by reporting who is filling government policy and supporting positions.

Section 2. Establishment of public website on government policy and supporting positions

This section creates a new section in Chapter 33 of title 5, United States Code, that establishes a public website to include the government policy and supporting positions previously reported in the Plum book.

Subsection (a) of the new section defines which agencies and positions are subject to reporting under the PLUM Act and details the positions currently reported in the Plum book.

Subsection (b) of the new section requires the establishment of a new website for the reporting of information regarding individuals who hold policy and supporting positions in the Federal government and the type of information about these individuals required to be included.

Subsection (c) of the new section details the information required to be included by the Director on the website.

Subsection (d) of the new section requires the website to be provided at no cost to the public in a searchable, sortable, readable format as required for an open Government data asset defined in section 3502 of title 44, United States Code.

Subsection (e) of the new section requires agencies to provide the required information to the Director of OPM, and requires the Director of OPM to provide instructions to agencies within one year after the date of enactment of the bill with requirements for the provision or uploading of information required under the bill. The Director of OPM is required to publicly identify any agency that has failed to provide required information. Finally, this subsection requires the information to be updated once every two years.

Subsections (f) and (g) of the new section requires each agency to comply with the instructions issued by the Director of OPM to fulfill the requirements of the bill, provide OPM with a certification that the data is complete, accurate and reliable and coordinate with the White House Office of Presidential Personnel to certify the same.

Subsection (h) of the new section requires the Director of OPM, in consultation with the Archivist of the United States, to archive the data included on the website.

The bill also authorizes appropriations for such sums as may be necessary to meet the website requirements and stops the printing of hard copies of the Plum book by January 2024.

V. EVALUATION OF REGULATORY IMPACT

Pursuant to the requirements of paragraph 11(b) of rule XXVI of the Standing Rules of the Senate, the Committee has considered the regulatory impact of this bill and determined that the bill will have no regulatory impact within the meaning of the rules. The Committee agrees with the Congressional Budget Office's statement that the bill contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA) and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

VI. CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATES

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, November 17, 2020.

Hon. RON JOHNSON,
Chairman, Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs, U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for S. 3896, the PLUM Act of 2020.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is Madeleine Fox.

Sincerely,

PHILLIP L. SWAGEL,
Director.

* = between zero and $500,000.

S. 3896 would require the Office of Personnel Management to maintain a website for United States Government Policy and Supporting Positions, a directory of certain government positions and government policies often referred to as the Plum Book. The volume is now published every four years, alternately by the House Committee on Oversight and Reform and the Senate Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs. The Government Publishing Office currently maintains the online version of the Plum Book. The bill would also discontinue the print version of the Plum Book in 2024. Finally, the bill would require the volume to be updated every two years and would direct the Government Accountability Office to report on the accuracy of information on the website.

CBO estimates that simply transferring management of the website to the Office of Personnel Management would not have a significant cost. Discontinuing the print version of the Plum Book would reduce costs by an insignificant amount. The cost of updating the Plum book every two years would be insignificant for any one agency, but CBO estimates that across the government those costs would cost about $2 million over the 2021–2025 period. All spending would be subject to the availability of appropriated funds.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Madeleine Fox. The estimate was reviewed by H. Samuel Papenfuss, Deputy Director of Budget Analysis.
